

NEW DEFENCE TENDERS THIS WEEK: 11 October

BATTLEFIELD AVIATION PROGRAM - MAJOR PROJECTS UPDATE

AD/NOT/7300/2

- Notice - Capability Acquisition and Sustainment Group

LAND2097PH4 – Special Operations Aviation Capability

LAND2097 Phase 4 will acquire a new simple, proven and reliable Commercial or Military Off-The-Shelf helicopter. The light helicopter will weigh about four tonne and will have a proven ability to be rapidly prepared for and recovered by air transport. The new helicopter will be optimised for operations within dense urban environments which will allow it to complement the existing MRH90 Taipan and enhance the output of the combined formation. The rapid deployability of the helicopter will provide new options for government to quickly respond to terrorist situations within domestic Australia and the near region.

LAND4503 – Armed Reconnaissance Helicopter Replacement

The Defence White Paper (DWP) and the Defence Integrated Investment Program (IIP) identified that the Tiger Armed Reconnaissance Helicopter (ARH) would be replaced by a future armed reconnaissance capability from the mid-2020s. The project identified to conduct the replacement is LAND 4503 ARH Replacement. LAND 4503 is to invest in a future armed reconnaissance capability which could include manned or unmanned systems, or a combination of both.

LAND129 Phase 3 – Tactical Unmanned Aerial Systems Replacement or Enhancement

LAND129Ph3 will acquire a new Unmanned Aerial System (UAS) to replace the Shadow 200 Tactical UAS (TUAS) from 2023. The new capability will replace the Shadow 200 capability and is intended to provide greater performance with respect to; payload modularity, endurance, deployability, connectivity, lethality and interoperability. The TUAS will be operated by 20 Surveillance and Target Acquisition Regiment which will grow from two TUAS batteries to three.

FUTURE MARITIME SUSTAINMENT MODEL

RFI_8069_NAVY_FMSM

1 NOV

- Request for Information - Defence Support and Reform Group

Department of Defence is undertaking a request for Industry Consultation in relation to the Future Maritime Sustainment Model (FMSM) Project. Specifically, this Industry Consultation seeks industry's input as to:

- whether the current model used by the Maritime Systems Division (MSD) of the Capability Acquisition and Sustainment Group (CASG) to sustain naval maritime capability is optimal;
- if not, what alternative models are available and which one is optimal, in particular in light of unprecedented future Naval initiatives and capabilities (e.g. Continuous Naval Shipbuilding); and
- what opportunities are there to innovate in developing and potentially adopting a new maritime sustainment model.

Note: Respondents to this request are presumed to have a sufficient level of understanding of maritime sustainment in Australia and best practices globally to provide a response that meets the objectives of this request.

A FMSM has the potential to be a fundamental enabler for strengthening the Naval Enterprise (Navy, CASG and Industry), maximising long-term opportunities and addressing foreseeable challenges that the Commonwealth's Naval Shipbuilding Plan may bring to maritime sustainment. Defence has identified as a precursor for future success, the imperative of a strong, sustainable and innovative partnership with the Australian naval industry. Naturally, Defence must journey alongside its trusted Industry partners to collaboratively arrive at potential options for the FMSM.

Closing Date: 4:00 PM Thursday 1 November 2018

AMP 029.580 LAND SIMULATION CORE 2.0

AHQ/IB/AMP029-580

2 NOV

- Industry Briefing - Defence Support and Reform Group

Defence will conduct an Industry Briefing Session on the Army Simulation Minor Project 029.580 Land Simulation Core 2.0 to inform potential tenderers of the scope and status of the Project.

AMP 029.580 Land Simulation Core 2.0 is an Army Minor Project addressing capability and manning shortfalls for the Land Simulation Capability to enable a scalable and persistent Land Simulation System that can be delivered on demand at the point of need.

The Project is currently seeking Gate 0 approval and will address five areas;

1. A software baseline to support the Land Simulation System and its Common Architecture, including:

- a. a Common Virtual Simulation.
 - b. a Common Image Generator.
 - c. enhanced VOIP software to support the conduct of training.
 - d. a low overhead constructive software operating Semi-Autonomous Forces.
2. Improved Data Warehouse functions,
 3. Expanded Land Simulation Network,
 4. C2 Stimulation (Gateway Management), and

5. A complimentary contracted workforce to support the integration and delivery of simulation enabled training within Army.

The aim of this Industry Briefing Session is to share information regarding AMP 029.580 Land Simulation Core 2.0 to address frequently asked questions and help industry prepare for the acquisition and support phases of the project.

The AMP 029.580 Land Simulation Core 2.0 Industry Briefing Session will be conducted at the unclassified level and is open to all members of Defence Industry and the ADF.

Industry Briefing: An Industry Briefing will be held at Majura Theatre, Majura Conference Centre, 11 Lancaster Pl, Majura Park, ACT from 9:00 AM on Friday 9 November 2018.

FUTURE SUBMARINE COMBAT SYSTEM INTEGRATOR PROGRAM INDUSTRY BRIEFING

29 OCT

- Industry Briefing - Lockheed Martin Australia

The Future Submarine Combat System Program presents an opportunity for Australian Industry to participate in an exciting and strategically important program to build and maintain an enduring and regionally superior Australian submarine capability.

Lockheed Martin Australia is offering representatives from companies who have registered their interest in participating in the Combat System Program to attend an unclassified Combat System Industry Forum in Canberra. LMA is seeking to ensure that all companies registered (both with and without Defence security clearances) have an opportunity to attend a Combat System Industry Forum and receive an update on progress and status of the Combat System Program. Attendance numbers are limited to approximately 75 representatives, and preference will be given to delegates from companies who have not previously attended a Combat System Industry Forum.

The Industry Forum agenda will include the following topics and activities:

- CSI Program report
- CSI R&D Program overview
- Enclosure and Console infrastructure briefing
- Networking opportunities
- CSI Program upcoming events
- Opportunities for questions

The Forum agenda items are aimed at providing the opportunities for:

- Component supplier and hardware manufacturing companies to understand the CSI Strategy for design, manufacturing and procurement for the combat system Enclosures and Consoles
- Tactical application and software developers to understand the CSI Program Research and Development White Paper solicitation processes as a lead into the funded R&D activities.

As part of your registration, please submit your expression of interest below and complete the questionnaire.

Attendance is only confirmed upon communication from Lockheed Martin Australia.

Industry Briefing: An Industry Briefing will be held at Lockheed Martin Australia, Endeavour Centre, Level 3/8 Brisbane Ave, Barton ACT from 1:30 PM to 4:30 PM on Monday 5 November 2018. Tenderers must contact the Enquiries Officer on Monday 29 October 2018 if wishing to attend.
