

THE NEW WAY FORWARD

A low-angle shot of a military vehicle, possibly an armored personnel carrier, being hoisted into the air by a crane with orange cables. The vehicle is olive green and black. In the background, a building with a large dome is visible under a clear blue sky.

At Built, we never stop pushing ourselves to improve the way the world is built – to advance our industry forward, to create foundations for the future and to forge new pathways.

Built is a proud, wholly owned Australian company with a national service offering and a specialist Defence sector business unit. We offer scale and certainty to our Defence clients to deliver projects of any size and complexity across fitout, refurbishment and construction.

built.com.au/defence

Built